Julia Lehman | Intuitive Photographer

Julia's been titled by many of her clients as the "intuitive documentary photographer & artist" her images capture the genuine nature of each individual. More than a photographer, Julia is also an artist and a humanitarian. Her ability to dive below the surface level of her subjects' personalities arises from her lifelong passion to give back to her community through healing arts. Julia has contributed her talents to dozens of charitable initiatives, including the "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep" bereavement photography organization, ongoing projects with Comcast's Accessibility Lab for the hearing- and visually impaired, and many others. Julia has also served historically-neglected populations, including special needs and abused animals. Most recently she has been bringing awareness to the plastic pollution problem in our oceans and is collaborating with a range of artists to inspire and create underwater photographs to donate 100% of proceeds to Charity Water. Julia is devoted to highlighting the beauty and strength of the human spirit. Julia's fine art photography can be viewed here.
